

ABOUT BALTIMORE

outdoor festivals varying in size and theme, such as Artscape, the country's largest free outdoor arts festival, as well as cultural festivals, including AFRAM, one of the largest African American festivals on the East Coast, Latinofest, Ukrainian, Greek, Russian, and Polish festivals.

The city is authentic, diverse and original and with four arts & entertainment districts, walkable neighborhoods with different transit choices and personalities. Baltimore is also highly affordable as the cost of living is lower compared to nearby cities such as New York, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C. For more information about living in Baltimore City, including buying and renting options, please visit Live Baltimore at www.livebaltimore.com.

